AT ST. LOUIS.

The Situation Not Improved-A Further

Sr. Louis, May 19 .- [By the Associated Press.] As nearly as can be told the Mississippi is at a stand. But this gives no hope to flood sufferers, for before a fall can possibly take place the up-river rise will reach here and add a new chapter to the suffering already inflicted upon people living in flooded districts. The situation in this vicinity was practically unchanged today.

As long ago as last Monday the levee protecting East Carondelet broke and almost swept the town from the face of the earth. It broke at 11:30 p.m. and the earth. It broke at 11:30 p.m. and in ten minutes there were four feet of water in every house in the little hamlet and many houses were carried away, but so far as known no lives were lost. The true state of affairs was not learned on this side of the river until last night. Today no aid could be sent across because of high winds, but tomorrow an effort will be made to aid the 300 or more people now in the second stories or on the roofs of their flooded dwellings. The railroad situation is one degree worse railroad situation is one degree worse tonight. The Vandalia tracks are washed out for 1000 feet, and only the Ohio and Mississippi are unharmed.

NEW ORLEANS,, May 19.—The levees along the front of the city are in good condition, and but little uneasiness is felt on account of the high water. A large territory with growing crops is threatened at Happy Point, eighteen miles below, where the fity-foot break is enlarging. The Gypsy crevasse is not enlarging.

The Nebrasks Overfle LINCOLN (Neb.,) May 19 .- The flo in this vicinity are subsiding and ef-forts are being made to restore the devastated districts to their normal condition. Moderate success is meet-ing the efforts of railroads to run trains regularly. It is impossible to estimate the total damage, which is light in indi-widual instance, but heavy in the aggre-

Deacon's Unlucky Admission During His tion by the Judge-His C sel, However, are Confident of His Acquittal.

Nice, May 19.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] After final interrogations by the Judge of Instruction today Deacon held a conference with his counsel, and the line of defense was arranged for tomorrow's trial. The defence will be justifiable homicide, When under examination Deacon rather prejudiced his case by expressing regrets for Abeille's death, adding that he was ready to and thought he should suffer some form of punishment. He probably made the statement unaware of the factthat unless acquitted the yerdict would be murder with extenuating circumstances, which implies at least three years' imprisonment. His counselare confident of his acquittal and that his indiscreet admission will not prejudice his case. During his examination Deacon and his During his examination Deacon and his wife conversed in English. Deacon upbraided her for disgracing the family. The wife appealed to him to cease his reproaches. She admitted her guilt with Abeille and pleaded with her husband for forgiveness. Deacon reiterated "No, never!" The judge, knowing the English language, obtained considerable information, but took no advantage of what he learned.

siderable information, out took no advantage of what he learned.

The accusation recites the facts already known and puts the case favorably for the accused. Abeille is described, after his introduction to the family, as losing no time in becoming intimate with Mrs. Deacon. "His assiduities," says the Acte, "became so indiscreet that they forced the husband to suspect that Abeille had deceived him. The husband saw details which convinced him that his wife was de-ceiving him. Instead of taking strong measures himself he was disposed to get the police to interfere, but the difficulties he encountered obliged him to abandon this course. The incidents of the eventful night are consecutively narrated as follows: "At midnight Deacon goes to the door of his wife's room and hears a noise which convinces him that she is not alone. He returns to his own room to get his revolver. At the same time he warns the secretary of the hotel, who goes with him. At Madame's door they wait three minutes. Madame opens the door in her night toilet, holding a candle in her hand. She tries to calm her husband, but in vain. Thinking it his duty, he enters, despite the resistance of his wife. He discovers a man whom he recognizes as Abeille and fires at him thrice. While Abeille was being raised from the floor the accused asked the secretary to note the material facts establishing in flagrant delicto adultery."

The Acte, in concluding says: "The stockyards, with the animals in them, corn cribs and all buildings are carried away by the flood.

At Clarksville, Ark., the flood in the Arkansas River led to the drowning of five people.

At St. Joseph, Mo., the river has risen nearly two feet and is now at its highnearly two feet and is now at its high-est point, the five man to the defense is whether, as no plagrants he really surprised his wife in flagrants est point. either was not able or did not desire to furnish any explanation. Although the inquiry by the judge proved that there is much to set aside aggravation of ciris much to set asine aggravation of cir-cumstances and premeditation, the proof is sufficient to justify a charge of voluntary homicide, which is punisha-ble by articles 295 and 304 of the Penal Code."

The Mills Meetings Attract Crowds Despite the Heat.

The Old, Old Story is Given Renewed

Fully 1200 people assembled at the Pavillon again yesterday afternoon to hear the "old, old story" as told by Evangelist Mills. The gospel, as inter-preted by this gifted preacher, never ses its power of attraction, as the immense congregations which he has drawn ever since the opening night two weeks ago, give striking testimony. The personal magnetism of the man, his perfect knowledge of the scriptures and intelligent interpretation of them, his eloquence, which at times reaches the sublime, his tremendous earnestness and his persistent manner of winning souls, combined with his marvelness and his persistent manner of winning souls, combined with his marvelous executive ability. place him in the lead of all the evangelists who have before visited Los Angeles. As the time draws near for the closing of this remarkable series of meetings the interest seems to increase, and it will be an easy matter for the clergymen of the city to carry forward the good work in angurated by this leader. Whether there is smficient broad Christianity among the ministers of Los Angeles to do this remains to be seen. If they can sink out of sight all denominational lines and work shoulder to shoulder for the common cause of Christianity a lines and work shoulder to shoulder for the common cause of Christianity a great work may be done.

The service this afternoon will commence at 3 o'clock, instead of 3:30 as formerly. The first half hour will be devoted by Evangelist Mills to the answering of questions in regard to perpetuating the work, and the sermon which will follow will also bear upon this subject. It is therefore especially desirable that all ministers, all Sundayschool teachers, officers and all active school teachers, officers and all active Christian workers be present.

The opening prayer yesterday afternoon was by Rev. Dr. Jenkins of the East Side Congregational Church. Rev. Mills read the Bible lesson from Genesis 32, begining at the transference moon was by Rev. Dr. Jenkins of the East Side Congregational Church. Rev. Mills read the Bible lesson from Genesis 32, begining at the twenty-fourth verse, about Jehovah wrestling with Jacob. His text was a portion of the twenty-sixth and twenty-ninth verses of the same chapter: "And he said I will not let Thee go except Thou bless me, and He blest him there." "Jacob had been left alone," he began. "He was alone because of a very mean motive on his part—cowardic. He was fleeing from justice; from the wrath of his brother Esau, whom he had deprived of his birthright. He had been into a distant country, married and reared his children and acquired a great deal of property, and then God said to him, 'Go back to your boyhood's home,' and as he approached a messeng; met him and told him that Esau was coming to meet him with a great company of followers, and Jacob feared that he came to seek vengeance, so he sent on gifts and sought to appease his wrath. He sent at last his wives, and children, and servants, and all the rest of his property, but he tarried behind. I think the reason was that he might have an opportunity to run away from the vengeance of his brother if he found he cherished any. Sometimes God does take advantage of our meannesses, and so he did of Jacob, who had not yet learned the secret of walking with God and having all his wants supplied by Him. The story of the wrestling is of a wrestling Jehovah, and not of a wrestling is of a wrestling Jehovah, and not of a wrestling is of the Mills meetings are begunning of his strength. It was only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked: only what he gave him what he asked: only when he came to be a cripple t beginning of his strength. It was only when he came to be a cripple that God gave him what he asked; only when he cried out, 'Other refuge have I none.' t is only a sense of our weakness that ays hold on God. Jacob prayed first to be delivered from Esau, and added, 'I will not let Thee go except Thou bless

"There are two things that used to puzzle me about this Interview; one was how God could bless a man without open confession, and the other was what the angel asked him his name for. Did he think he was mistaken in the man? I think one explanation will answer both questions. The orientals gave names to represent character, and they do that to this day. The name of Jacob was no mistake; God picked it to him. It-meant 'swindler.' He was naturally a schemer reaching after the main chance. He swindled his father and his brother. He swindled God and he swindled his uncle, and when he answered the angel and said Jacob, 'he told it all. He confessed his sin. He told it all out. I notice in the last place that Jacob surrendered his will to God. This is the crucial test. Jacob's place man? I think one explanation will an-

This is the crucial test. Jacob's place in this interview was not one of pre-sumption but one of the most absolute humility." Making a personal application, the evangelist said: "Have you not sometimes come very near to the place of infinite blessing and moaned out 'Oh God, I will not let Thee go?' But when God placed His hand on your flesh and you winced and He said 'There's disease there: it must come out 'did you God placed His hand on your flesh and you winced and He said 'There's disease there; it must come out,' did you say 'I will let go?' God is not satisfied when we are dependent upon Him. He wants us to be entirely independent of everything else. This afternoon God has met you and is wrestling with you and says 'Tell me thy name.' He longs to bless you but cannot unless you tell out everything. Tell out your name this afternoon—all thy secret sins, tell them out to the very depths. The wrong thing, if it be a wrong ambition, or business, social or family matter, down hidden in thy soul, tell it out. Tell your name. Then can you say that last thing that Jacob said, 'I will not let Thee go except Thou give me the blessing.' I would give more to see one person give himself in utter self-surrender, to lay hold on the life of God than to see 100 turn their faces toward the kingdom. Let the blessing come even though it crash down through every plan you have made. After Jacob had confessed his name, 'swindler,' the angel said, 'Thy name shall no more be "swindler," but Prince of, God;' and he blessed him there."

The number who rose in signification of their utter surrender of self included a large number of middle-aged men and women.

The Evening Meeting.

The Evening Meeting.

The lower and second floors of the Pavilion were again filled last evening with a throng of people. The text chosen by the evangelist was from Luke xiv:20. "I cannot come"—the words of a man making an unreasonable excuse for not going to a feast where he had accepted an invitation. The Master said: "Come, for all things are ready." Strangely enough all began to make excuse. None of the excuses were morally wrong, but the wrong was in that they did not attend the feast. The Jews acted as did these men in the parable. So it is today. Men in all ages are making frivolous excuses. It is no excuse that there are hypocrites in the church. Where there is one hypocrite in the church there are 100 outside of it. Another man says "I cannot come to Christ because I can't understand all the Bible." The fact is they don't want to understand God's word. Some others say, "I am peculiar." Christ's religion was made for just such people. It includes all of whatever kind or nature. There is only one way into the ark of salvation, and that is through personal repentance and obedience to all that God commands.

ance and obedience to all that God commands.

One great thing necessary to salvation is common honesty. You cannot deceive your God or yourself, and hope thereby to be saved. Mere weeping and feeling will not save any one—obey the Lord's command, when he said: "Stretch forth thy hand," the healing only came when the afflicted man obeyed. As the lepers went they were cleansed, and only then. Who is willing to publicly confess Christ?

Some say "I have no time to be a Christian." Foolish excuse, and one that God will not recognize.

In conclusion the evangelist said: "I want to present three things. A little thing right in itself may keep you out of the kingdom of Christ. Nothing, however simple, or apparently innocent, must ever be allowed to come between you and salvation. It is a serious thing to let anything keep you from coming now.

The second is that the awful praver to let anything keep you from coming now.

The second is that the awful prayer of those invited to the feast: "I pray thee have me excused," was granted. God has prepared His gracious feast, He has sent His messengers to warn and invite. Are you content to he sitate and falter, and so say, "Have me ex-cused?"

and latter, and so say, cused?"

The third point is, it was the last call.

No further invitation was given, no other opportunity was theirs to enter into the feast prepared by the Master. Is this your last call, your last invitation? God only knows; be wise, come now.

An unusually large number remained to the after service. Among those present were Judge and Mrs. S. C. Hubbell, D. W. Field, Mayor Hazard, Dr. Bradley, E. A. Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McKoon, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chanin.

W. D. Ball, who has charge of the cards, says that over 2200 have been signed and handed in. This includes 600 from the Sunday-schools.

physical as well as the spiritual benefit of those who are in need of either. The of those who are in need of either. The work of creating a hospital fund is to be started at once, and as soon as enough is received to open the institution, premises will be hired and the needy sick will be cared for. In this land of plenty, where ihe doctrine is preached that the earth and the fullness thereof belong to God, an effort will be made to secure the worthy needy their share, or enough to make them comfortable in their hours of physical suffering.

The demand of the times is for practical results of Caristian work—caring for bodies as well as souls-and the good people need only to be shown how it can be done and they will respond by action.

JAYHAWKER.

The Grape Outlook.
Says the Anaheim Gazette: Unless all signs fail there will be a vast area set to grapes in this neighborhood next season. On all sides there is a reset to grapes in this neighborhood next season. On all sides there is a reawakening of interest in this industry, based upon the universal impression that the vine disease has run its course. Mr. Webster's two-year-old vineyard on West street looks splendidly, the vines are filled with grapes, and there is in them evidence conclusive that the disease is at an end. Vines in different parts of the valley that have survived the mysterious malady are putting forth new growth and giving abundant evidence of returning health and vigor. They are covered with the rich, glosy foliage of our vineyards of the days before the blight, and are quite sufficient to prove that the last lingering trace of the disease has vanished, quite as mysteriously as it came. The vigorous growth of leaf and stem and the putting forth of the delicate tendrils peculiar to the healthy vine, together with the branches laden with miniature clusters of grapes is a sight that we have not seen here in five years, and warrants the conclusion that we are at last out of the clutches of the malady. On every hand prevails the opinion that we have come out of the dread scourge and of the clutches of the malady. On every hand prevails the opinion that we have come out of the dread scourge and that grape-growing will soon take on again the magnificent proportions of the past. Indeed, some of the old vineyardists are even now looking over the country for choice cuttings to plant next year.

MRS. HORTON'S TROUBLES.

In the Clutches of the Police—A Badly Tangled Story.

Mrs. M. E. Horton, who has once before been in the clutches of the police, was taken in charge again yesterday. A few months ago she was arrested for steeling some sheets from the Spencer South Main street, but was allowed to go, and as she gave some in-formation regarding her brother-in-law, G. Horton, which, if true, shows that she is more sinned against than sinning, she will probably get out of sinning, she will probably get out of her present scrape.

The charge on which she was arrested yesterday grew out of a transaction she had with G. W. Hawkins, the colored second-hand furniture dealer. Mrs. Horton was anxious to sell her furniture and she asked several dealers to call. Hawkins offered her sell her furniture and she asked several dealers to call. Hawkins offered her $86 for the furniture, which she ac-cepted, and he paid her $20 down, agreeing to pay the balance when he removed the stuff. She was not quite ready to give up her house and Hawkins agreed to let it remain until day before greed to let to community yesterday.

On that day he visited the house and found that Mrs. Horton had not only disappeared, but that the furniture had the heran an investigabeen removed. He began an investigation and soon discovered that Mrs. Ho ton had sold the furniture to another dealer for $39 and delivered it. He reported the case at once to the police and Detective Bosqui was detailed to ook the matter up.

After some trouble he found that Mrs. Horton was about to leave the city for Newhall. The detective conducted her to the central station, where she told a most pitiful story. Some time ago her husband was about to be arrested for seduction or breach of promise, or seme-thing of the kind, and to save him from thing of the kind, and to save him from State's prison she procured a divorce and allowed him to go free. Ever since she has been in hot water, and has had a hard time to earn a living. Her husband's brother, G. Horton, and

Her husband's brother, G. Horton, and a young girl named Edith Glover, whose parents live at No. 928 Short street, opposite Mrs. Horton's mother-in-law, took up their residence with Mrs. Horton, and the three, with Mrs. Horton's eight-year-old son, have lived together.

A few weeks ago they made up their minds to move to Newhall, where they thought they could get employment and for this reason Mrs. Horton decided to sell her furniture.

All arrangements were made to leave with her son and the Glover girl. She gave Hawkins an order for a cow she owns, as she could not refund the $20, as she had no money after paying her debts in the city. If the order proves good she will not be prosecuted. The poor woman is about to become a mother, and is in a most nitful condition.

HORRIBLY MANGLED.

John Fray's Disastrous Attempt to Boar a Moving Train.

Yesterday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock a young Swede named John Fray met with a frightful accident on Alameda, near Commercial street. A few min utes before Fray left the Strasbourg Hotel and ran for a lot of empty pas-senger coaches that were being re-moved by a switch engine from the San Fernando street depot to the Arcade. The train was moving at a slow rate of speed, and as Fray wished to go to the Arcade depot he attempted to board the train.

Not being an expert in that line he missed his hold, and the next second he was being mangled by the wheels. Three coaches passed over him before the train came to a standstill, and when picked up it was found that his left leg below the knee and the foot were crushed out of shape. He received several ugly scalp wounds and was badly bruised about the neck and shoulders, but was not otherwise injured.

Fray came to this city from San Bernardino a few weeks ago, and has been living at the United States Hotel. He is a jeweler, and was looking for a place to open a store in this city.

Night before last he was out on a spree with some one from the Strasbourg Hotel and was robbed of about $40 in one of the houses of ill-fame. He has several friends in this city who say he has a good reputation. HIGHWAYMEN.

The Thieves Who Robbed an Old Frenchnan Have Confessed.

Monday morning The Times contained a full account of the robbery of an old Frenchman named John Dumonis, on Twenty-first and Main streets Saturday night. The men who did the job, Ted Whitman, aged 18, and Albert Richard son, the sixteen-year-old son of a prom-inent business man on Los Angeles street, were arrested night before last, as stated yesterday. Detectives Auble and Benson did not get a confession until yesterday morning.

The detectives had succeeded in working up such a strong case against the boys that they broke down and told the whole story. They met the old man Saturday night and drank with him until a late hour when he street to his until a late hour, when he started to his home on Twenty-first street. The boys accompanied him and when he reached a point near his house they quarreled and he showed fight. They then knocked him down and beat him in a knocked him down and beat him in a frightful manner, and to get even they went through his pockets and took $21.

On the other hand, the old man claims that they followed him and when he was about to enter his yard they jumped on him and knocked him down and took $45 from him. He has been confined to his bed ever since, but when he learned that the young scamps were arrested he got up and visited the city prison, where he identified them.

The boys were to have been arraigned before Police Justice Owens yesterday afternoon, but an accident in the jail caused a postponement. An officer was unlocking the cell door when the key broke off in the lock, and a locksmith will have to open the door.

R. G. THOMPSON.

His Sudden Disappearance in San Francisco Reported.
Yesterday the following Associated Press dispatch was received from San Francisco:

Francisco:

San Francisco, May 19.—R. G. Thompson, a retired capitalist of Los Angeles, and who formerly owned considerable land in Napa county, arrived here last night, accompanied by his wife, and registered at the Grand Hotel. They were on their way to Portland, Or., and from there were going to Colfax, to visit grown children.

Thompson left the hotel during the evening and has not been seen since. The police incline to the theory that he was the victim of foul play.

A Times reporter investigated the

A Times reporter investigated the matter in this city yesterday and found that Mr. Thompson and family lived in the second house back of Dr. Griffin's residence on Workman street and Downey avenue. He sold out a few day igo, and he and his family left for Sai Francisco. He has two brothers living on Daly street in East Los Angeles, near the Flith Ward station on the Terminal road. He was a sober man and was never known to remain away from his family late at night, and his friends are of the opinion that he has been killed for his money, as he carried quite a large sum on his person.

CRIMINAL NOTES. Mrs. Tischhauser's case will come up for hearing before Police Justice Austin today. To Abolish All Stop-over Privileges Transcontinental Tickets-A Transcontinental Meeting-Local and Personal,

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago says that rumors are current in Boston and New York that a new and important Santa Fé bond issue will soon be made. The story is that the Issue will include $100,000,000 of second mortgage bonds which, after exchange for income bonds, will leave a surplus of $20,000,000 for "betterments and improvements." The success of this Santa Fé management funds necessary for several important extensions, chie of which is a line into San Francisco.

General Manager Wade, of the South ern California lines, is paying a visit down about Temecula and Warner's ranch. It is presumed that he is ac-quiring more or less information which will become valuable when any more lines of this system are extended into that country.

The movement is growing among many prominent railroad men to abolish all stop-over privileges. Announce-ment is received that after June 1 no stop-over privileges will be granted on any kind of tickets on the Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul roads. The time is coming when passengers must go straight through to their destination without any intermediate stops.

geles in the office of the clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to Clare S. Harris, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for Los Angeles county, and to answer the complaint filled therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

poly according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain judgment and decree that the bonds of marrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant be dissolved and a divorce decreed according to the statute in such case made and provided. The ground on which said judgment and decree are claimed is that for more than one year prior to the commencement of this action the defendant has deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and for costs of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

Solid Chunks of Democracy,

The platform adopted by the recent

These are unparalleled offers. Subscrib now and secure these great papers through out the Presidential campaign and for seven months beyond its close.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT. AT THE OPERAHOUSE-A Parisian R

VENTURA has made up her mind that she wants the next Republican Congressional Convention: The last -well, the town was not respon sable for the result.

The Fresno convention receives th finishing touches in today's TIMES. It was a menagerie of large and lusty proportions and the earth trembled when the elephant went around.

A Kansas paper thinks it is a little singular that at this period, with the "June rise" following the May inunda tion, there should be held a "Deeper Water" convention at Memphis, FERDINAND WARD, late of Sing Sing has purchased a $50,000 residence in Stamford, Ct., and will go into business in New York. He is not yet the crushed Napoleon of finance that most people have supposed him to be.

Ox Thursday of next week Evangelist Mills is to begin his campaign against Satan in San Bernardino. There plenty of good material to work on up there, and the weather that San Ber nardino must be having about now ought to be a point in favor of the revival.

Canapa lays the same tariff on British and 'American mowing machines and the ocean freight on them is light. last year the Canadians bought 11,018 American machines and only fifty of the English. An explanation from the Cobden Club would be interesting.

Owing to the heavy consignments of silver from Spain to Havana, which has caused a discount in that metal from 434 to 5 per cent. as against gold in any amount above $5, the importers of Havana have decided that, in the future, all their sales shall be made on a gold basis, and they will refuse to ac-

THE Fresno platform of the Democ racy, with its wealth of platitudes, fails in one important essential. It does not denounce the devil and condemn sin. This might have been done out getting off con mon ground. But then a Democratic convention could not be expected to denounce itself and its own members!

THAT pious fraud and all-around fakir, Rev. John W. Ellis, has been knocked galley west and crooked in his vicious and venal suit for $100,000 damages, brought against the San Francisco Presbytery. Judge Wallace yesterday non-suited Ellis, and the presby tery goes free. Whereat decent and est people, whether of the church or not, will rejoice and te glad.

THE State Board of Health has come forward with the sensible recommendation that the practice among men of standing uncovered about a grave during the performance of funeral services discontinued. Many of the living have been hastened on their way to join the dead by the observance of this bare-headed custom in inclement weather.

THE form of amusement which Sam Jones denounced as "hugging set to music" may yet be received with more favor by progressive church organiza-The late Omaha conference of the Methodist Church received a memorial asking for a waiver of the inhibition of dancing. It was not only numerously signed by the laity, but also had the indorsement of one of the pishops.

ED T. Duruis, recently editor of the Carson News, wrote a valedictory when he retired from the tripod, in which he said: "My advice to publishers estab lishing themselves in a new field is to make enemies. Make enemies if you have to bust your suspenders." Mr. Dupuis was succeeded by Miss Annie Martin, a novice in journalism. The question now arises, will she follow his advice? RUDYARD KIPLING was blackballed for embership in the Players' Club of New York on the ground that, "he is not a gentleman in the real sense of the The club could endure Kipling's sneers at Chicago and the West with equanimity, but when he presumed to criticise New York he It was agreed by the members of the club that he is either a ruffian," a "mountebank" or a "cad," they can't decide which.

ern Pacific Railroad in the politics of

In favor of civil service reform (cor temptuously referred to by the Herald as "snivel service reform.")

Against the subsidizing of steamship ompanies in collusion with railroad propolies (Pacific Mailt) In favor of a competing railroad.

In favor of the public schools. Upon many of these propositions, which "go without saying," the Republican platform has anticipated the Democrats, and we may as well shake hands over them. Readers of THE TIMES will note the fact that the issues in this category have been as earnestly supported by this paper and by the Re ublican press of the State generally as by any of the Democratic press. When there is no issue we can't divide. The Democratic party of the State cannot hope to forge into power on such generalizations. FACTS ABOUT SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Considering the platform as a whole, we may characterize it by the comment which a certain editor made on the in augural address of a certain Governor: "There are some good things and some new things in it, but the good things are not new, and the new things are not good."

THE editor of the Los Angeles Herald who had all along, up to the meeting of the Fresno convention, been millions for Hill and not one cent for Grover ound it expedient to fall down to the big and burly Baal of Buffalo at the mo ment when the able editor was nominated for the position of an elector. In doing so he salaamed profoundly before the "Stuffed Prophet," to wit., the Bigman, and uttered this dutiful and lova sentiment: "Lead on, master, and I will follow to the last gasp of love and devotion," or words to that effect. Now comes his paper, of date yesterday-one day after the above-described performance-and declares editorially: It is a fact worthy of careful considera-tion that the States strongest for Mr. Cleve-land in the convention will cut no figure in the electing of a Democratic President.

What does this mean, and is that the kind of lovalty to show the leader? The Democratic Committee on Discipine will be summoned, with its large and penetrating spy-glass, to locate the 'last gasp of love whereabouts of that and devotion " so called

THE Sacramento News has the follow ing oblique compliment for us:

The Los Angeles Reception Committee in charge of the arrangements for the proper entertainment of the editorial excursionist entertainment of the editorial excursionists have prepared for another open-air breakfast. The last one they gave was when the international Press Association came hrough the State a few months ago, and then all the reporters from the East who thought an all fresco breakfast in the middle of winter was something grand and ever to be remembered, went home with cases of catarrh and colds enough to last them. catarrh and colds enough to last them

It is safe to say that no cases of catarrh were contracted by visitors either with the former or the present excursion as a result of breakfasting in the open air in Los Angeles. Our Sac ramento contemporary is simply talking through its nose.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

LOS ANGELES THEATER.-Prof. W. P. Chambers and his forty promising pupils gave an excellent pupil's concert at the Los Angeles Theater last night. At the rise of the curtain the stage was seen crowded with the performers, arranged among flowers, and a pretty stage ornamentation of banjo's guitars and zithers.

The programme included selections upo the banjo, zither, violin and guitar, and the pupils were from five years to those of gray hair. Among forty comparisons are invidious, and in this case happily unneces sary, for in every case the pupils acquitted themselves with modesty and a careful rendition of their work. Prof. Chambers bimself was everywhere at once and played on any and all of the instruments. Prof. Lenzberg was the soloist of the programme, giving two selections with much skill. The accompanist was Miss Bessie Richardson. The elass is composed as follows:

The Fresno round-up is a thing of the past, as is very apparent by the morning papers of even date. It was a most commonplace performance that the toilers of the Faber had to preside over There was with their eagle eyes. There was scarcely an episode during the proceed ings to stir the blood or make the hair curl or the most moss-backed Democrat on earth.

I observed a few things not already reported—or rather not already al-luded to.

One of the most striking things wa the overpowering modesty and shrink-ing diffidence of the Los Angeles delegation. They came away with the folowing armfull of honors:

One delegate to Chicago at large; One district delegate;

One district delegate;
One elector-at-large;
One alternate-at-large;
One district alternate;
One alternate elector.
And then came so near getting away with the other district delegate (within 2 votes) that Statesman Carr of the North must have seen bristles on every one-lunger in the shebang.
Much grief was expressed by the delegation en route home in the sleeper

Young Mr. Clunie of San Francisco came near ejecting an episode into the dullness with his resolution indorsing Judge Wallace for the Vice-presidency. He didn't get a chance to get up to the stage in advocacy of his pet idea before Young Mr. Williams of San Joaquin lit into the proposition as mad as a drenched egg factory, and wanted the matter laid on the table. Some assistant kicker from a back county joined in the riot and wanted the resoluter laid on the table as well as the resolu tion, but nobody seemed to want the job and so it was not let out.

There was a decidedly noisy three or four minutes. The chairman voiced a mild reproof, but it didn't "faze" any-body, for the auditorium rang with yells of "Call the roll!" "Take another vote!" and hand-clapping, with Billy Foote of Alameda trying in vain to raise a point of order. He never did raise it, so the world will have to com-plete its brief existence without know-ing what the Alameda statesman ing what the Alameda statesman

The nominating speeches were of the usual order. The most cheering was heard when Steve White's name was mentioned by George Patton. Senator mentioned by George Patton. The fact is, the Cleveland sentiment was so powerful that it won in spite of the machine, which was clearly against him. The country delegations were vo-ciferous for the New York wonder, and although the election of Murphy was evidently meant to be an anti-Grover victory, it proved a barren one. The wind-up of the session proved to be a veritable love-feast, for reformer. Everybody had to fall down at his shrine, and he was adulated as long as the adulators had a word left in their lexicons.

A sensation went through the hall when Clay Taylor, with his voice of thunder, demanded that the gentlemen who had been nominated for electorsat-large be trotted out and made to speak up for the disliked by Dana. Editor Lynch was the man aimed at, and the delegates were agor to see him and the delegates were agog to see him publicly gulp down a dose of crow that would gag most people. He acquitted himself nobly, but while he was making his little talk full of the essence of despair and humility, the face of the statesman J. Marion Brooks was a study for a whole photograph sallery. No for a whole photograph gallery. No one will ever know how Fine Times con-tingent regretted the absence of the little kodak which had, up to that hour, one such yeoman service in the caus

No such article appeared in The Times. The case was injestigated, and when it was found that there was nothing in it, no mention was made. The Express in its anxiety to make a point against Tué Times was a little too previous, and, as usual, put "its foot in it."

The anti-railroad sections were admitted to be 'gnfi' of the guffiest sort, and one sensible gentleman who sat as a delegate declared that if he and his confreres had their deserts the Southern Pacific would make them all walk home. THE VITICULTURISTS.

They Ask an Increased Appropriation for a World's Fair Exhibit. San Francisco, May 19.—[By the Associated Press.] At the session of the Viticultural Convention today, Capt. Thompson of the World's Fair Commis-Thompson of the World's Fair Commission stated that the commission had on file enough applications for aid to require $500,000, whereas the commission had only $300,000 at its disposal. Resolutions were then introduced stating that the appropriation of $6000 for viticultural purposes is too small and appointing a committee of three to urge an increase by the commissioners

Resolutions were adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of twenty-four from the wine, brandy and raisin-makers, coopers, etc., to assist the World's Pair the World's Fair commissioners.

Compelled to Abandon the Ship ALBANY (Or.,) May 19.—The Herald's special from Yaquina says: evening three boats containing eighteen men belonging to the ship St. Charles landed at Cape Foulweather light-house. The second mate and two sailors were badly injured. The captain was in a critical condition. The St. Charles was en route from Nanaimo to San Francisco with a cargo of coal, and on Tues-day an explosion occurred causing the crew to abandon their sinking ship."

The Western Unitarians.
CRICAGO, May 19.—The most important item in today's meeting of the Western Unitarians in this city was the passing of a resolution which closes, bepassing of a resolution which closes, between the western branches and other portions of the United States, the breach which was made in 1886. The effect of the resolutions is that the effect general to be the common aim and purpose to promulgate a religion in harmony with that of all Unitarian churches of the United States.

A resolution was also carried, declaring that the question of national aid to the World's Fair should be determined without reference to Sunday closing.

NEVATANA WHIST CLUB.

The Nevatana Whist Club was very pleasantly entertained last Saturday at the Hotel Mentone, Mentone, San Bernardino county, by William P. McIntosh and wife.

The members of the club, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nicholls, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bicknell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mercer, Miss Thaxter, Mrs. Hatch and daughters, Judge J. G. McCallum and family and the family of Judge T. K. Wilson, were driven by Mr. McIntosh through the beautiful orange groves of Redlands and Mentone to the top of Rediands and Mentone to the top of Smiley Hill and back again to the pleasant hotel.

All agreed that they had never had a more charming time or seen a more delightful country.

HYMEN CELEBRATES.

At the residence of E. Nittinger.

At the residence of E. Nittinger. Esq., 451 South Hope street, on Satur-At the residence of E. Nittinger.

Esq. 451 South Hope street, on Saturday evening, a very interesting ceremony took place in the marriage of Miss Katie Limebach to John Folmer. Mr. Nittinger's house, where the bride has been residing for some months, was decorated gaily for the occasion and the grounds and garden, so picturesquely situated on a steep slope, with its parterres of flowers and winding walks, was a charming spot. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Knighten. The bride was prettily attired. The following guests were present: C. J. Dunn, Miss Annie Borden, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nittinger, Mr. and Mrs. I. Glashoff, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wolfrom, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wohn, the members of Laurel Circle and all the members of Angelina Circle, C. of F., and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Thilmer. The bride and groom were the recipients of some elegant presents. Delicious refreshments were served and guests were unanimous in their congratulations.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Saturday evening the birthday anniversary of Mrs. L. Neitzke and Mrs. C. Knell was celebrated by a pleasant sur-prise party at the home of Mrs. L. Neitzke, No. 1088 Myrtle avenue, by ner many friends.

The musical programme rendered was unusually good. A piano, and violin duet by Prof. J. D. Knell and the Misses Antonia and Lillie Neitzke, a vocal duet by the Misses Bertha and Josephine Knell, a violin solo by Miss L. Neitzke and a number of very pretty songs by the little Miss Martha Neitzke were generously applauded.

Miss Martha Neitzke won the admiration of all present by her sweet, clearly-sung selections and was recalled several times.

Refreshments, games and dancing were in order until a late hour.

B. F. Bragg, charged with having forge the signature of Henry Vejar to the record of a deed from Manuel Copa to Balvedina Duarte de Abila in County Recorder's office, which was mmenced on Wednesday last.

A large crowd of curious spectators filled the body of the courtroom and watched the proceedings with manifest interest.

The proceedings commenced with the cross-examination of the witness, E. M. Shipman, who was on the stand when court adjourned Wednesday afternoon. and he was followed by E. W. Sargent, who was called for the purpose of iden-tifying a certain abstract. He was, however, unable to do so, as he did not make it himself, nor had he compared however, unable to do so, as he did not make it himself, nor had he compared it with the original.

E. E. Powers, Esq., was then called and testified in effect that during the trial of a certain civil suit, in a justice's court some time ago Esperanza B. de Abila, the female defendant, had admitted a certain receipt to have been written by herself. This was then introduced in evidence, and the defendant, Mrs. Abila, was called and briefly questioned as to her name.

G. P. Phibbs, Esq., and Charles E. Alter followed with brief statements regarding certain admissions, made by Mrs. Abila, as to documents which were then introduced in evidence as specimens of her handwriting, and Angel Romero, a searcher of records, toxified that at the instance of H. H. Appel, Esq., he made an abstract of the record in controversy, and that he signature of Henry Vejar was not attached thereto at that time. thereto at that time.

Henry C. Hyde of San Francisco, an expert on handwriting of twenty-five years' experience, including the famous Sharon will case, was then called and occasioned the defense considerable anxiety. He pointed out to the jury the various discrepancies in the genuine signature of Henry Vejar to a deed introduced in evidence and that on the records.

In order to illustrate his meaning the witness produced a number of photographs of the documents on a magnified scale and proceeded to make diagrams on the blackboard, but the Court sustained the objections of the defense thereto and refused to allow either to be used.

thereto and refused to allow either to be used.

During the day the proceedings were frequently diversified by little discussions between counsel, probably occasioned by the heat, which appeared to amuse both jurors and spectators immensely. Finally, however, Judge Smith's patience became exhausted, and at 2:45 o'clock a little scene occurred in which the Court took occasion to sit in which the Court took occasion to sit down upon counsel somewhat severely. The witness Romero was on the stand at the time, and W. T. Williams, Esq., of counsel for the defense, attempted to extract from him the reasons for his having made an abstract for Attorney Appel, who assisted in the prosecution. The latter took exception to the former's insinuations, and after a sharp exchange of compliments, Assistant District Attorney McComas remarked that Attorney Williams's talk was all 'guff.'' Counsel for the defense retorted that he knew all about McComas' methods and that the latter did not know the difference between a confirm Attorney Williams assumed his most dignified air and replied that he excepted to the Court's remarks. He had not been engaged in any personal altercations, nor did he intend to, as he was not a fighting man. Nor was he in the habit of talking nonsense. Another prominent citizen in the per-son of Hiram Sinsabaugh died yesterday son of Hiram Sinsabaugh died yesterday afternoon, after a long sickness. The ailments which finally carried him off were a combination of consumption and Bright's disease. Mr. Sinsabaugh was born sixty years ago in Norwich, Muskingum county, O. In early life he became a preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and served many years and in various places in the Ohio and Pennsylvania conferences, including the exchange of compliments, Assistant District Attorney McComas remarked that Attorney Williams's talk was all "guff." Counsel for the defense retorted that he knew all about McComas' methods and that the latter did not know the difference between a guilty and an innocent one when he was conducting the prosecution. Judge Smith interrupted the attorneys at this juncture and sternly remarked that he had had enough of these personal altercations between counsel and that he did not propose to stand any more nonsense, or have the proceedings of the Court interrupted again by such methods. He intended to enforce discipline.

Attorney Williams assumed his most Pennsylvania conferences, including the Attorney Williams assumed his most of that body, where he made his mark pose of framing a new city charter. He was a good man and a useful citizen who made his impress on the community in which he lived, and which will feel his loss. J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potash which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be emaciating. J V S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives A case in point:

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 510 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J.V. S.

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFES SIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRA1ED CHINESS PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes aick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having bren taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolongation of his life. This present consists usually of a broad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his fiends. It is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disease which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

Mills Meetings-Various Items of Local interest-Brev-

As the time for the election of a school trustee approaches, talk on the question is agitated. Mr. Boynton's name so far is the only one mentioned in this connection as only one mentioned in this connection as being in the field, and the probability is that he will have a walk-over. Mr. Boyn-ton's candidacy is urged by citizens who favor a more economic policy in the man-agement of the schools. In other words they believe that the schools can be con-ducted without, only outside the single lucted without going outside the annual appropriation for funds. This has heretofter not been done, and two of the present Board of Trustees say that it is an impossible accomplishment. THE TIMES reporter yesterday spoke to several of the signers to yesterday spoke to several of the signers to Mr. Boynton's petition on the matter. These gentlemen do not assert that the shools can be run without a special tax being levied on the district property-owners, but simply express their belief that it can be done, and what they want is to elect a man who will give the proposition a fair trial. It is not stated just in what manner greater economy is to be practiced, although the general impression seems to prevail that some of the special studies are to be lopped off or at least the services of some of the special instructors dispensed with and their work given to the regular reachers.

ing his reappointment, supporting the resolution with a short speech and moved its adoption. Mayor Gaty ruled the resolution out of order. Holloway appealed from his decision. On roll call the Mayor's ruling was not sustained. The resolution was then adopted. The fight between the Mayor and Council seems to widen. Without taking issue with either, it begins to look as though the Council was not only bent on exercising its own prerogative of confining the Mayor's appointments; but also of interfering with those of the Mayor in dictating who the appointees shall be.

In the Superior Court, Judge Cope presiding, young Campbell, the accomplice of Vital in the murder of the Chinaman at Lompoc, was brought up for trial Wednesday. The prosecuting attorney moved the Court to dismiss the charge of murder, as in his opinion there was not sufficient evidence to convict. The motion was granted by the Court. An information for burglary was then filed against him, to which he pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced this morning at 9:30 e'clock.

It is now reported that a change will be made some time next week in the number of trains on the Santa Fé between Riverside, Santa Ana and Los Angeles, by which side, Santa Ana and Los Angeles, by which this city will be given the benefit of one more daily train to the Los Angeles county seat. Heretofore the train from Riverside came only as far as Orange, where it was headed for Los Angeles. By the new ar-rangement the train will come on to Santa Ana, where all baggage transfers will be made and as soon as the San Diego train arrives will start for Los Augeles. This new arrangement will be much more con-venient for the traveling public of Santa Ana, as they will not now have to ride to Orange in a street car in order to get a late norning train to the metropolis of South

At the last meeting of the City Trustees a proposition from the Santiago Water Company was made to extend its system from Cambridge street, where it now terminates, to the college on the west, with branches extending north and south on intersecting streets, four-inch pipe to be used, and the guarantee of water without limit. There were some objections offered to the resolution on the grounds that the ranchers in the sections irrigated would not consent to any diversion of the water from the creek and that a change from the deep-well system to an open-water system would be a backward step from a sanitary point of view. The matter was finally referred to the Fire and Water Committee, with power to add new members to the committee and to report at a special meeting to be called by the president if deemed necessary.

The Dukes Again Defeated in Yesterday's Ball Game.

One of the Most Scientific Exhibition Ever Witnessed.

Los Angeles in the First and one by the Dukes in the Fourth-The Special Features.

Once more the proud Dukes were colors in the dust, for they went down before the Angels again yesterday afternoon, figures 3 to 1, and Glenal vin's Giants are now leading the pro-cession in the race for the little rag.

Such a game as that put up by the two leaders yesterday is seldom witnessed on any ball field. Leaving out the first half of the first inning, there has never been a more perfect game played on any diamond. One, two, three was the order in which both sides walked up to the bat and back to their benches in almost every inning, eighteen men putting up a game as perfectly as though each one was a neces sary part of a perfectly adjusted ma-

South Paw Roach, "the orator," was in the box for the locals and plugged through a ball that was simply a puzzler. First fast, then a slow one, now curving this way and then that, his change of pace and variations of in and out. up and down shoots were altogether out, up and own snoots were attogether too unceremonial for the haughty Dukes, and down they went. From a scientific point of view it was a magnificent con-test. In six of the nine innings not one of Finn's bridegrooms reached first base. Although four of them fell before his deceptive curves, Roach did not pitch a strike-out game but honestly plunked the ball across the plate and forced them to hit it. Only three more men than the minimum number for a men than the minimum number for a nine-inning game stood up before him, and of the thirty only four were able to land the ball in a safe place, one of them being a scratch by Stallings which skimmed along the third-base line for a double. The best most of them could do was to pop up little "dinkey boys" which fell into some one's pocket.

Harper's work was also of a superior order. Leaving out the first inning, only four scattered hits were made off only four scattered nits were made on him and he had splendid control.

The Angels won the game in the first inning. Wright opened the game with a single, but was forced out on second on Treadway's grounder to big Bill Everett. Then McCauley singled and Everett. Then McCauley singled and Hasamaear sent a hot one to Dooley, inside the base. Harper covered the bag, but dropped the ball on Dooley's assist, while Treadway trotted across the rubber. Stafford sent one out to McVey, who made a bad throw in and old "Pop" scored. Hasamaear scored on Newman's single to left.

This was all the locals were able to take. In the fourth Hulen and Roach singled, but the "Kid" was caught napping and the "Orator" was doubled up by Wright.

Treadway singled in the eighth, after two men were out, and Newman did the same in the ninth, but nothing came of it.

The Dukes escaped a shut-out in the fourth. Everett opened with a two-bagger, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Ebright's single. This was the visitors' total score.

was the visitors' total score.

In the seventh Ebrightopened with a single and headed confidently for second, but found Stafford waiting for him there with a message from Mr. Rogers.

In the eighth Stallings scratched out a double over third base, but died on a double over third base, but died on second—the only one of the Dukes to be left on a base during the game. Capt. Glenalvin was badly spiked by Dooley, who accidentally slid into him in the first inning of Wednesday's game, and he may not be able to play again this week. In the meantime Jimmy Stafford, the general utility man, is playing a great game at second. His work yesterday was one of the features, among the others being Hasamaear and John H. Rophe of Louisville, Ky., is at he Nadeau.

George B. Birrell of San Francisco is in he city on business and is a guest at the fielding of Tredway, Dooley and Denny.

A good story is told on President Vanderbeck in connection with the recent appearance of Will Carleton in Los Angeles. Having been presented with a box seat Mr. Vanderbeck made extensive preparations to attend, but on the evening of the entertainment he happened to sick upon of the part's present the second of the part's present the part's present the second of the part's present the part's evening of the entertainment he hap-pened to pick up one of the poet's pro-grammes down town, and after looking it over, he remarked in a confidential but disgusted way to Billy Edwards: "Well. Silurians in the Shoe Business.

Fossils Who Imagine Abuse of Others is the Key to Yesterday the many readers of this paper were treated to a quarter of a column of abuse by one of the supposedly fine stores of this city. Like all cowardly attacks, like the barking of the cur at the mastiff's heels, like the buzzing of the insignificant fly on the face of the giant, they imagine they conceal the object of their attack because they deal in generalities and are safe from the mastiff's fangs or the blow of the giant. Poor fools! they little realize how fair-minded people pass contemptuously over their innuendoes—their little tale of woe, their mournful song of lost business, past opportunity song of lost business, past opportunity and diminishing custom related to "something for nothing." That is ex-actly what the readers of this paper got—something for nothing; the some-thing was the vapid remarks of siluri-ans in the shoe business; mud silngers, jealous of business enterprise and suc-cess, frantic at lost trade and helpless to stem the tide of success ebbing from to stem the tide of success ebbing from their doors and flowing to others; rushing into print and sneering at their successful rivals. Here is a quotation from their advertisement: "The dealer who professes to give something for nothing—that is, to sell his goods for less than they would bring in the open market—is properly an object of suspicion. If the goods are worth what he says they are, why is he selling them for less! Is he a philanthropist or a fraud? Sensible people ask the question at once."

Die people ask the question at once."

Patrick Bros., wholesale shoe dealers at Nos. 146%-148 North Los Angeles street, have been in business in this city a long time. They are perfect gentlemen, honest business men, shrewd buyers and careful dealers. They realized for a long time they could not compete with sharp, live retail dealers and were forced to give up to protect their own interests. They sold shoes to all the dealers of this city, and the goods always gave satisfaction. Patrick Bros. sent for us when they wanted to retire, offered us our own selection at practically our own price. We had the money, they had the goods and we traded. We practically got something for nothing. Patrick Bros. lost their profit, lost the interest on their money invested, lost the freight, lost the cartage. We got all that for nothing. Are Patrick Bros. fakirs?

We are giving the same goods to the public at a living reset to reserve the sent of the public at a living reset to the problem.

Patrick Bros. fakirs?
We are giving the same goods to the public at a living profit to us.
Are we fakirs?
Becaase we do not ask 100 per cent. profit are we fakirs? Because we have coin to pay for our shoes; because we are not an incorporated concern, owned and controlled by eastern manufacturers who charge exorbitant prices, we are called fakirs. Coin is the only article that talks. Coin will convince any one, and we now openly challenge any one, and we now openly challenge our dismayed lumber dealers and neck our dismayed lumber dealers and necktie makers in the shoe business to meet us half way on this proposition. We will forfeit $1000 to any charitable society of Los Angeles—if they will do the same—if our sales are not larger since we are in business than any shoe house in Los Angeles; if they can find one single instance in which we have not stated the truth in regard to any advertisement of any shoe we have ever quoted in this or any other paper; if we are not doing the largest shoe business in Los Angeles today.

We are ready to submit our books for inspection to any committee our wildeyed rivals might name.

eyed rivals might name. We are in the shoe business in Los Angeles to stay.

We are attempting to inject modern methods of doing business into this community.

We intend to climb to the top of the heap and stay there.

We are striving to gain public confidence and the largest part of the trade.

Truth, justice and honest methods are our key-notes to success We are cash buyers in an open market where money is needed. Coin buys where credit cannot. That is the reason our sales are a success.

That is the reason we can undersell all others, and that is the reason the people throng our stores and revel in bargains that the "has beens" of the shoe business believe it is impossible to

Why don't the back numbers of the why don't the back numbers of the shoe business quote prices so that all may judge the value of their assertions? They dare not do it! but entice you into their stores and charge you French kid prices for goat skin shoes. Here is the only argument worthy of consideration:

consideration:

Ladies' genuine Grison French Kid hand-turned shoes, that the 'has beens' sell for $6.50, we place on sale at $4.00. They are from Patrick Bros.' stock and are strictly first-class. Ladies' genuine hand-turned Dongola Kid shoes that the back numbers sell for French Kid and ask $5.00 for, we are selling for $3.00. Patrick are selling for $3.00. Patrick Bros,'s goods are all solid and every pair warranted.

Ladies' Dongola Kid button shoes that

Men's fine calf shoes that the smoothies of the shoe business ask $6.00 for, we take from Patrick Bros.' stock and place on sale at $3.50.

Misses' grain tip spring-heel school shoes that back number credit buyers ask $2.25 for, we take from Patrick Bros.' stock and place on sale at $1.25.

Ladies' russet goat Oxford Ties that these conscienceless dealers ask $4.00 for, we place on sale at $1.50 a pair.

Infants' Dongola kid button shoes that our paralyzed competitors ask 75c for, we take from Patrick Bros.' stock and place on sale at 15c a pair.

These are prices that talk!

The goods are open for inspection. We stand ready to supply the town with these goods. We are neither philanthropists nor frauds because we are apparently giving these goods away.

We are making money on every pair and will supply any dealer in town who wants them at these prices.

We know the gentlemen engaged in the shoe business in Los Angeles and esteem them all. We know they are ashamed of the actions of these frantic mud-slingers, and we and they realize how much they are suffering from our
